Hi Jill,

We understand your meaning. We are buying the plywood produced in Vietnam, and ship from Vietnam to Malaysia.

The plywood is not from China. The only problem is the the current purchasing cost of Vietnam plywood is higher than Chinese plywood.

Best regards.

Vivian

Vivian. There seems to be a misunderstanding. We cannot and will not accept plywood from China.

Vivian: Jason forwarded you email to me. Unfortunately, the plywood from China will still be subject to all the same duties that would be incurred if the plywood was shipped to the US. Because of this, we are unable to accept product with Chinese plywood.

Subject: Plywood for Malaysian factory

Hi Jason,

There is an idea just came out to my mind. There is one cause of price increase of the products which ship out from Malaysia is plywood's cost increase.

We are buying plywood from Vietnam now, and the price is higher than Chinese plywood.

There is an legal question we need to make clear which is related to our cost and your purchasing price.

Can we use the plywood from China?

It means we buy plywood from China, the cost will be the current plywood cost plus shipping and relates costs, it will be cheaper than we buy from Vietnam.

Our concerns are as follows,

Plywood material (4'x8' sheet) ship from China to US is subject to anti-dumping.

The plywood carcass parts ship from China to US is subject to anti-dumping.

RTA kitchen cabinets ship from China to US is subject to anti-dumping.

But is it legally for us to buy plywood material from China, do processe in Malaysia , produce into carcass parts, packing with face front components (door , drawer fronts, frames, drawer boxes) ,and ship to US.

If it is not subject to Anti-dumping, we may bring the price some percentage down.

Please discuss with Jill about it .

Look forward to hearing from you soon.

Thank you and best regards.
